New Zealand Council of Trade Unions
Te Kauae Kaimahi & Affiliated Unions

Find Your Union

Wondering which union covers your industry or a certain group of workers?
Go to <http://www.union.org.nz> and click on "Find Your Union" on the left-hand side of the page. Follow the instructions from there.

Foreword

The last few years has seen the ongoing rebuilding and regeneration of the union movement and a broadened focus into areas such as Productivity, high performing workplaces, Maori Workforce Development and Learning Reps.

We are an organising, campaigning union movement; working co-operatively in industries and sectors empowering working people to realise their aspirations and potential, taking an active part in our political democracy and engaging in social partnerships across a broad spectrum of economic and social initiatives in the State and Private sectors.

The change of government has brought new challenges as we see worker rights being eroded, pressure on wages, growing employer militancy and cuts to many programmes including Health and Safety, Maori Workforce Development and Learning Reps. This year unions will be focusing on campaigning on these issues and looking at ways of extending the rights of freedom of association and collective bargaining to those workers where the 'traditional' form of union membership is not easily attainable. We know modern and successful workplaces will have structures that support union participation and welcome the worker's voice.

The New Zealand Council of Trade Unions is the largest democratic organisation in the country, representing 350,000 workers in our 38 affiliated unions. This directory provides contact details for the staff at the NZCTU Te Kauae Kaimahi, our representative structures, and affiliated unions throughout the country.

We expect it will be a useful resource for union officials and staff, workers seeking advice about relevant unions, the media and anyone else with an interest in the union movement.
